

Joint event NIHR ARC KSS and BSMS

Developing researchers and engaging communities in health and social care in Kent, Surrey and Sussex

About the event

Brighton and Sussex Medical School (BSMS) and the NIHR Applied Research Collaboration, Kent, Surrey and Sussex (ARC KSS) are pleased to host this joint event for early career researchers in the region.

Professor Harm Van Marwijk, BSMS and Primary and Community Health Services lead for ARC KSS, will present insights into the importance of applied research in terms of goals, opportunities and challenges for rural and coastal communities. Key to successful applied research is inclusivity and community engagement which will be presented from the perspective of the voluntary, community and social enterprise sector.

As well as networking opportunities and round table discussions, you will also be able to find out about how the ARC KSS Academy can support you as a developing researcher.
